

Cohort 11, 2016

Selection Criteria for Applicants

The selection process will be flexible, but we are looking for researchers with a track record who are likely to be future leaders in primary care research. Hence the four elements we will be looking at are:

1. Track record

- Research Qualifications: PhD or equivalent (e.g. coursework masters with a research focus, or substantial practical research experience) in primary care research or related field
- Publications
- Grants (assessed from CVs)

2. Demonstration of commitment to pursuing a career in primary care research

- Current positions
- Future career plans
- Ongoing research

3. Demonstration of leadership potential

- Applicant's statement on leadership potential
- Evidence of leadership from CVs

4. Demonstration that the home department can support the programme both financially and academically.

This year we are recruiting a mid-career cohort, applicants will be at least 5 years post-doctoral or have equivalent research and leadership experience.
